CDC “releases” 148-page study on myocarditis following COVID “vaccination” – WITH EVERY PAGE REDACTED

The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has finally released its long-awaited report on myocarditis following Wuhan coronavirus (COVID-19) "vaccination." The only problem is that every single page is redacted.

Possibly a new record, the CDC's 148-page report is completely blank due to a complete redaction of everything it contains.

"Excited to dive into a new FOIA on the CDC's long-term study of myocarditis after COVID-19 vaccination," joked Epoch Times reporter Zachary Stieber about the new CDC report.

Clearly the CDC has something big to hide from the American public with this total redaction, and followers of the saga want to know what it is immediately.

"This is absolutely insane," tweeted "The Vigilant Fox." "We are now over three years past the rollout of the COVID-19 injections. There's obviously something very damning that they're trying to hide."

The CDC "released" a 148 page study on myocarditis after COVID-19 "vaccination" and every single page is completely redacted. This must be a new record.

(Related: In 2023, the CDC admitted that heart disease risk skyrockets by 13,200 percent following COVID "vaccination.")

COVID "vaccines" clearly cause myocarditis

If the CDC report was nothing major, the federal agency would have released it as-is without any redactions. The fact that the entire thing is blank is not only a slap in the face to the U.S. public, it also screams of a coverup.

"When people or institutions conceal evidence of their behavior it's fair to draw an adverse inference regarding their conduct," another X account tweeted. "When it's a public (or publicly funded) institution it should be treated as evidence of criminality, because it is."

Another joked with the following screenshot:

It turns out that the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA), Australia's version of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), did much the same thing in its own myocarditis-COVID jab report after a Freedom of Information request was filed to have it publicly released:

Believe it or not, this is approx 60 pages of the 74 page answer by the TGA (the Australian pharmaceutical goods regulator) to the Freedom of Information request 4558.

The FOI asked for information on the batch testing for a number of Covid vaccine lots.

All of this really casts "follow the science" in a whole new light. How is anyone supposed to follow science or anything else if the entire thing is blank?

"There needs to be a lawsuit on the redactions across all FOIA responses," someone wrote on X about how the American public can fight back against this obvious stonewalling of the truth.

"There is no reason whatsoever that a study on the side effects of a vaccine should be redacted in any way."

Someone else joked that the next time his doctor brings up getting a COVID "vaccine," he will simply point to the CDC's completely redacted report as evidence that the shots are completely unsafe – otherwise the CDC would be proudly broadcasting far and wide the full contents of its report.

Numerous others wrote that COVID was obviously a complete scam, as was the Operation Warp Speed program unleashed by the Trump regime to gets the jabs into as many arms as possible, as quickly as possible.

"The CDC cannot be trusted anymore and the heads of the department," wrote another. "Walensky and others should be tried in front of a military tribunal for crimes against humanity in accordance with the Nuremberg Code."
